Job's Daughters honor outgoing 'Honor Queen'

MISS JULIE POTTS

Miss Julie Potts, honored queen of Bethel 287, International Order of Job's Daughters, conducted her last meeting Tuesday, Dec. 6, at the Upland Masonic Temple, 611 N. 3rd Ave., Upland.

She will be succeeded Saturday, Dec. 10, by Miss Ruth Wayne at ceremonies to be held at the Masonic Hall.

Miss Potts is the 18-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Potts of 1477 N. 1st Ave., Upland. She was graduated from Upland High School in June of this year and is now attending Chaffey College. One of her aspirations is to become an airline stewardess.

Seven candidates were initiated at Tuesday night's meeting with each initiate receiving a wristlet of blue ribbon roses trimmed in gold and white, which were Miss Potts' colors during her term of office.

Decorations in the dining room included a large "farewell cake" and a personal gift for each of her officers from the departing honored queen.

The two-day fund drive will aid leukemia stricken American Children (ALSAC).

Persons interested in volunteering their services are asked to contact Suzanne Dixon, 1736 O'Malley Ave, Upland, at 985-3460.

Council split again in zone change vote

The City Council Tuesday night, Dec. 6, granted a controversial zone change from A-1 (agriculture) to R-1-D(residential) on some 11 acres of land at the southwest corner of Mountain Avenue and 15th Street.

The vote was 3-2 in favor of the zone change despite the eloquent efforts of Mayor James Christensen who urged his fellow council members to "look ahead for the overall good of the entire community and not a select few."

Approval came from Councilmen Max Hawkins, Ronald Rossitter and Councilwoman Zella Stone following a lengthy public hearing. With but one exception, Dewey Cable, who said the homes would be in the path of a runway at Cable Airport, all others who spoke were in favor of the change.

One resident of the area, a farmer by occupation, presented the Council with a petition bearing some 32 names of landowners who requested that the zone change be granted.

The hearing was a continuation from a previous meeting. It had been requested by William D. Standlea of the Standlea Realty Company of Upland.

Christensen's opposition to the zone change, which was recommended by the Planning Commission and planning consultant, centered around its effect upon the city's proposed golf course and other developments and possible enterprises the newly-annexed Cable Airport area will provide.

He also pointed out that two adjoining tracts, north and south of the 11 acres in question, were zoned improperly three years ago. He said he opposed the R-1-D changes from agriculture at that time but that he and Councilman Hawkins, who opposed it then, were both overruled.

Christensen said also that the lot sizes of 7,500 feet failed to meet city requirements.

"A mistake was made three years ago but that doesn't say we should further that mistake by making still another," he declared.

Representatives from the engineering firm, the builder and others interested in developing the property said that it wouldn't be realistic not to grant the change when the two adjoining tracts were zoned residential.

It was also explained that the homes would be in the $23,000 to $25,000 class and an asset to the city.

"Tight money" also came into the hearing with proponents of the zone change pointing out that the builder had the necessary financing through a local savings and loan company.

Councilman Hawkins, who is employed by Standlea, had disqualified himself from the previous public hearing. However, Tuesday night he asked City Attorney Donald Maroney on the legal aspects of his participating in the hearing and final vote and was told that there was nothing illegal should he elect that course.

Hawkins said later that his vote for the zone change was based solely upon the R-1-D granted the adjoining tracts three years ago.

In the voice vote, only Councilman George Gibson joined Christensen in opposing the change.

In other business before the Council, six police officers and six firemen were appointed on a probationary status effective Dec. 1.

The new patrolmen are Larry Bridger, Raymond Hawkins, Fred Ream, Robert Beringer, Bradley Myers and Dennis Segur.

The new firemen are Curtis Campbell, Donald Johnson, Donald Justis, George Melendrez, Raymond Cooley and William Conway.

The Council also amended a resolution from the City Finance Committee recommending a Christmas bonus for all city employes on the payroll prior to Oct. 1.

The initial recommendation called for a six per cent bonus based on the employe's salary for the first two weeks in December or a $30 minimum. The amendment made the "Christmas Appreciation gift" a flat $30 for all employes and ruled out the six per cent.

The Council also approved a sales transaction involving the Upland Yellow Cab (Curley's). New owners are Mr. and Mrs. Gene Stallions.

Also approved was the sale of an obsolete refuse truck to the city of Morro Bay for $4,000.

300 attend Scout Court of Honor

The Serrano District, Boy Scouts of America, held its annual Fall Court of Honor Monday, Dec. 5, at the Mormon Church, Upland.

More than 300 Scouts and parents attended the event as 70 awards were presented to the individual Scouts.

Outstanding among the awards made was the presentation of the Eagle rank to Monte Fletcher of Troop 642, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Fletcher of 9181 Candlewood, Cucamonga.

Brian Howarth of Troop 603, Upland, received his Bronze Palm, while Life Awards were made to Glen Sampson and Mike Castellini, both of Troop 642, Upland.

Don Bowers of Alta Loma High School directed his Madrigal Singers in a program of outdoor songs in the scouting tradition.

BROTHERS IN SCOUTING -- Brian Howarth of Troop 603, Upland, a Bronze Palm holder, and Peter Didszuweit of Solingen, Germany, were among those on hand Monday night at the Serrano District Boy Scouts' annual Fall Court of Honor held at the Upland Mormon Church.

TENDER TRAP LICENSE REQUEST 'WITHDRAWN'

The Tender Trap business license and other problems surrounding the proposed cocktail lounge on Foothill Boulevard were quietly dropped at the City Council meeting Tuesday night when the owner of the property asked that the license request be "withdrawn."

However, it is anticipated, unofficially, that a new location which meets the approval of both the Council and Upland residents will be sought in the near future.

In the second subject of interest over the past few weeks, conditions as set forth by the city staff and City Council governing the operation of the family-type dramatic theater at Foothill Boulevard and Campus Avenue were agreed upon and accepted by all persons concerned.

The theater is expected to raise the curtain on its first play sometime in February.

What the future holds for the Tender Trap is still a matter of conjecture.

Supervisors elect Mikesell chairman

Daniel D. Mikesell, 2nd District supervisor, was elected unanimously Monday, Dec. 5, as chairman of the county Board of Supervisors.

Named vice chairman was S. Wesley Break during the biannual reorganizational meeting.

Mikesell and Break were the only two candidates nominated for the posts. Both were in line for the positions under the board's rotation policy.

Also sworn in was Reuben S. Ayala of Chino, who defeated Paul J. Young of Colton as the 4th District's representative.

As chairman, Mikesell will receive $500 a year more than the $10,000 annual salary that the other board members receive. He succeeds Ross Dana.

Among the more than 200 persons attending the ceremonies were Congressman-elect Jerry L. Pettis and scores of county officials and county employes.

Traditional Mexican Yule program set for Dec. 22

The community will be treated to a bit of Mexico and Old California when Las Mixtecas present Las Posadas in Upland on Thursday, Dec. 22. This is the second year for the program.

The festival of songs and dances will be given at the Upland Woman's Clubhouse at 8 p.m.

Weather permitting, the traditional Las Posadas procession will take place on Second Avenue and end at the clubhouse, 590 N. 2nd Ave.

The program will be free to the public as Las Mixtecas wish to share their Mexican heritage with their neighbors.

Las Mixtecas is a group of men, women and young people of Chino, Ontario, Cucamonga and Upland, many of them born in the United States and who enjoy their common background.

The group began with the free English classes which are held at Los Olivos.

As in the 1965 celebration, Socora Esparza of Ontario will depict Mary, and Jesse Sanchez of Upland will play the part of Joseph.

County pledges not to overflow channel

(CNS)--A pledge not to overflow the San Antonio Channel was made Monday by the County Board of Supervisors.

The Corps of Engineers asked the Board to give assurance it would not cut down on the size of the settling basins, so that too much water would be allowed to run into the channel. The Corps of Engineers is participating in the comprehensive drainage plan for the West End.

Band to have new uniforms in '67

The Chaffey Union High School District Board of Trustees Monday night authorized calling for bids for some 150 band uniforms for Upland High School.

Purchase of band uniforms is part of a schedule adopted by the Trustees in July, 1965. The schedule calls for Upland to receive new uniforms for the 1967-68 school year but because of delays in manufacturing and delivery of goods, it was requested that the bids be called for at this time. Delivery will be made after July 1, 1967.

Plans call for the school district to purchase the first 102 uniforms and be responsible for 50 per cent of up to an additional 50 uniforms at a maximum of $85 per uniform or a total of $10,795.

Security Bank unveils new $ 250,000 office

Security First National Bank will unveil its new $250,000 Upland Branch on the corner of Foothill and Euclid Friday morning at 10 a.m.

Following ribbon-cutting ceremonies, the branch will be open for business and fun as the bank holds a day-long Open House featuring refreshments, gifts for everyone, and drawings for valuable prizes.

"A cordial invitation is extended to everyone to drop in Friday for a tour of our new bank," Manager Richard E. Price said. "We think we have built a bank that the people of Upland can be proud of."

The new building on the southwest corner of Foothill and Euclid results from several years of careful planning by the bank and city officials to assure that this important corner in Upland could be property developed. The bank has been in business in Upland since 1963 in temporary quarters at 846 W. Foothill.

One of the unique features of the 8,000 sq. ft. building is a special office specifically constructed and donated by the bank for the exclusive use of the Chaffey Communities Cultural Center, West End Symphony Association and the West End Opera Association. In addition to this room, the building also has a community room which will be available to non-profit groups in the area for their meetings. Arrangements for the room's use can be made with a branch officer.

The Upland Women's Club will assist bank officers in greeting visitors at the Open House and will also serve at the refreshment table. Among the valuable prizes to be given away will be a portable TV set, transistor radios and poloroid cameras. The open house will run from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

$8,000 SAVINGS SEEN IN TAX LIST PROPOSAL

San Bernardino County's weekly newspapers have put together a proposal for the publication of the county's delinquent tax lists which will greatly increase the circulation and distribution and still save the taxpayers a considerable amount of money.

The proposal will be put before the Board of Supervisors at 2 p.m. Monday, Dec. 12, by representatives of San Bernardino's Free Press, weekly newspaper published in the county seat and the spokesman for all weekly publishers.

The plan developed by the weeklies would break down the massive delinquent tax lists and allow them to be published in the communities where the delinquent property is located.

In the past, this publication has been performed by one daily newspaper a year, with the circulation limited to that daily's community. The dailies have been taking turns handling this publication.

The weekly plan would not only increase the distribution county-wide, and hike the total circulation to 125,000, but would save the county at least $8,000 in publication costs, its proponents say. Cost of publishing the list this year was more than $31,000.

THE MAIL GOT THROUGH -- "neither snow, nor sleet, nor the darkness of night shall stay these couriers from making their appointed rounds," or at least the old post office motto goes something like that, but over the last five days it was rain that threatened to not only interrupt the mail but other services. However, Upland faired well during the deluge which deposited more than eight inches in the area from Friday through Tuesday. Other than water encountered at intersections as in the two photos above, little damage was reported in the city. School attendance dropped, the sale of raincoats and umbrellas jumped, but other than its inconvenience the rain did little harm here.

In Montclair Tuesday night a huge portion of a road was carried away, something which Upland did not experiance. The only Upland incident reported to The News was that of a fourth grade student at Citrus Elementary School who was thrown into the swirling water when the board slipped off the curbing at the intersection of 7th and San Antonio Avenue. The youngster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Corwin of 252 S. Laurel, was pulled from the water by a 6th grade student after she "went under." The boy was identified only as "Larry in Mr. Sweeney's class." So the rains came and the rains left but keep your fingers crossed, more can be expected.

property taxes due

San Bernardino County Tax Collector G. Leon Gregory, issued a reminder this week that the first installment of the 1966-67 real property tax will be delinquent if not paid or postmarked on or before 5 p.m., Monday, Dec. 12.

The normal first installment date of delinquency falls on Saturday and by provision of State Law, continues to the next regular business day, Monday, Dec. 12.

Taxpayers are urged to mail remittances early to assure proper postmark prior to date of delinquency. Under the provisions of existing state law, tax remittances received with postmark after date of delinquency are subject to statutory penalties.

Special attention is called to the alternate procedure provided by new legislation wherein only the stub portion of the statement need be returned with check. In this manner, your cancelled check will be your receipt. It is estimated that this new procedure, now in effect, will save many thousands of dollars in tax collection costs.

DAR hears talk on lineage

San Antonio Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, met recently at the home of Mrs. Emily Knox, 631 W. "I" St., Ontario.

Mrs. Elmer J. Dahlstrom gave a very interesting program on lineage research. It was pointed out that lineage research is a study of history and of the accomplishments of individuals who help to make history. Particular emphasis was given to American history during the time of the founding of the republic.

Instruction was given on ways to obtain information through federal and state census records, pension lists and bounty land records of the Revolutionary War, ships' passenger lists, town records, town histories, family histories, vital records, bibliographies and genealogical books found in many libraries.

Ancestral charts also were explained.

Mrs. Maurice Bonillas gave a short talk on national defense and the role of the Panama Canal.

The regent, Mrs. Gottfried, reviewed Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer's book, "Wedemeyer Reports," and Gen. Nathan F. Twining's book, "Neither Liberty Nor Safety."

It was announced that there would be no December meeting.

Welcome Wagon club to install officers

The Christmas luncheon of the Upland Welcome Wagons' Newcomers Club will be held at 11:15 a.m. Wednesday, Dec. 14, at the Sycamore Inn, 8318 Foothill Blvd., Cucamonga.

Guest speaker will be Ronald G. Nash, director of Casa Colina Rehabilitation Center. The goal of this center is to provide new destinies for the crippled child and adult who seem hopelessly ill or disabled and return them to independence and even vocational achievement.

Included in the program will be the installation of the officers for 1967. They are: Pattie Hammond, president; Betty Lu Maraszew, vice president; Bunny Brennan, secretary; Pat Hummel, treasurer; Betty Schmit, historian; Ruth Strueve, hospitality chairman; Kathy Trudeau, activity chairman; and Dorothy Nordstrand, publicity chairman.

Members and guests are asked to bring a $1.50 gift for a gift exchange.

In the tradition established by the pioneer women who drove covered wagons out to meet new settlers with fresh water, food, and supplies, Welcome Wagon hostesses call on newcomers to the community. They carry messages from the communities religious, civic and social service organizations, and bear gifts from the public-spirited business people, who sponsor this continuous service. The hostesses also invite newcomers to attend the Newcomer's Club meetings.

The Upland Newcomer's Club meets the second Wednesday of each month, with special interest groups meeting at other times of the month.

For information and reservations, interested persons are asked to call Ruth Strueve at 985-4222 or Pat Hummel at 985-2544. Transportation will be provided if necessary.

Chaffey athletes receive awards

Fall sports awards were presented to athletes at a banquet held at Chaffey College last week.

Headlining the annual affair was guest speaker Jim Williams, head coach at Cal State Los Angeles.

Chaffey's multi-talented halfback, Rich Bare, walked off with the Most Valuable Player award in football. Bare, a sophomore who made All-Eastern Conference second-team as a defensive back, was also voted a co-captain.

Offensive back Ron Cambiano was named the other captain. Fullback Art Luciani, a first-string all-EC choice as fullback, garnered the "Best Back" trophy.

Dennis Carocci was voted by his teammates top lineman.

Football wasn't the only sport in focus at the banquet as athletes from Chaffey's cross-country and water polo squads also received plaudits for their efforts.

The 1966 edition of the Panthers water polo team won more games (15) than any other Chaffey club in history. Grabbing the MVP award for the Panther aqua-men was all-EC Ed Cutshall. Cutshall and Dick Martin were honored as captains. David Mandeville was voted Most Improved.

Orange Show to offer $35,000 in prizes

A total of $35,000 in cash, trophies and ribbons will be offered to exhibitors in all departments at the 52nd National Orange Show March 9-19 in San Bernardino, it was announced by Shibli Damus, president of the 1967 citrus exposition.

The figure is about the same offered at the 1966 springtime spectacular which established an all-time record attendance of 379,188 persons.

Greatest share of the money, trophies and ribbons will be claimed by Southern California communities and organizations which will be competing for $11,000 worth of prizes in the feature exhibits department. More than 30 southland exhibitors are expected to enter displays constructed of thousands of oranges, lemons, and other citrus fruits, turning the exhibit building into a hall of golden hues.

Cash awards will also go to participants in the popular 4-H Junior Fair in which boys and girls from San Bernardino county 4-H clubs enter their prize livestock and home economics projects. A total of $7,000 in premiums is allotted this event. Prizes totaling $3,700 will be given to members of the Future Farmers of America who will display prime livestock at the second annual FFA Junior Fair, also scheduled for five days during the citrus exposition.

A portion of the premiums to be offered is reserved for one of the National Orange Show's major attractions, its magnificent flower exposition which bursts with springtime color.

Thousands of dollars in cash awards, ribbons and trophies will also be claimed by hobbyists entering handicraft and collections in the big Hobby Show, by artists and photographers entering the National Orange Show's art exhibition and international photography display, as well as winners in the Orange Cake and Lemon Pie Baking contest, amateur photography competition, parades, and in numerous other departments.

Rodeo queen applications now available

Appointment of R. L. Howsley, San Bernardino insurance executive, as chairman of the committee in charge of the 1967 Sheriff's Rodeo queen contest, was announced this week.

Howsley has been chairman of the queen contest since the first Sheriff's Rodeo queen was named 10 years ago.

"We are fortunate that Mr. Howsley will be in charge of the contest again this year, since he not only originated the idea, but has been responsible for the contest running smoothly each year," said James Holloway, rodeo chairman.

In addition to coordinating activities for the many girls who will be competing for the rodeo title, Howsley arranges sponsors for each entrant. He is also an expert horseman in his own right, having served as president of the Valley Council of Riding Clubs and is past commander of the San Bernardino Sheriff's Posse.

Western-minded San Bernardino county misses between the ages of 16 and 20 are eligible to compete for the rodeo queen title. Application blanks are available at Schaff's and Porter's Western Wear stores in San Bernardino, or from Howsley, 825 D. St., San Bernardino. Girls are urged to enter the contest as soon as possible and take advantage of the rodeo publicity program and activities.

The contest winner will be named 1967 Sheriff's Rodeo Queen and will reign over the action-packed rodeo March 18 and 19, the last two days of the 52nd National Orange Show in San Bernardino.

Security Bank mails Christmas checks

Security First National Bank reports it has mailed out more than $2.5 million in Christmas Club checks to its 15,596 Riverside-San Bernardino club members.

Club savers not only are able to get an early start on Christmas shopping because of the checks, bank officials said, but also are provided with a ready source of cash for other year-end expenses such as taxes, insurance, entertainment and winter vacation costs.

Throughout Southern California, including the Riverside-San Bernardino area, Security Bank has dispensed more than $20 million this year to its 116,265 club members.

Supervisors to meet

The county Board of Supervisors will meet at 10 a.m., Monday, Dec. 12, in the board chambers on the fifth floor of the court house addition in San Bernardino.

Accountants honor Donald M. Cooley

At the Pomona Valley Chapter technical meeting held recently at the Stuft Shirt Restaurant in Upland, Donald M. Cooley, past president of the local chapter, was honored for 36 years of membership and service with the National Association of Accountants.

Mr. Cooley was designated "Emeritus Life Associate" by the National Board of Directors and presented with the prized "Gold Card" of this position.

Spanish necessary

Lift language barrier, CTA to ask legislature

Easing of California state law to permit local school districts to instruct in a foreign language will be sought by the California Teachers Association (CTA) in the 1967 session of the State Legislature.

Present law, the CTA said, prohibits schools from giving thousands of Americans of Mexican descent what they need most in the early school years--at least some instruction in Spanish.

How can we expect these children to succeed in a school which not only ignores the only language they know but demands that only English be spoken from the first moment they arrive in a classroom, the CTA asked.

"In effect, we are telling these children that their language and the heritage it represents is inferior," the CTA said. "It is hard to imagine the psychological scars this attitude has given to millions of Mexican-Americans over the many years it has been in effect in California's schools.

"The fact that 50 per cent of Mexican-American children drop out of school by the 8th grade is eloquent evidence that the current English-only policy is an appalling failure," the CTA declared.

Experiments have proved that results improve sharply in school programs stressing instruction in both Spanish and English.

The CTA said its legislation will permit teaching in a language other than English as a supplement to instruction in English in schools "where it can be established that a significant proportion of pupils in the school attendance area comes from homes where only the foreign language is spoken.

Under the CTA-proposed law "school districts would apply to the State Board of Education for approval to conduct instruction in a foreign language as an experimental program."

Most states now require English as the language of instruction, the CTA said. "In some schools the speaking of Spanish is even forbidden in both the classroom and on the playground, except, of course, in classes where Spanish is taught as a foreign language. Not infrequently in the five states of the Southwest students have been punished for lapsing into Spanish."

The CTA said there is "something sadly paradoxical about the schools' well-meaning effort to make the Mexican-American child 'talk American'--to eradicate his Spanish--when at the same time they are placing new emphasis on the teaching of Spanish to the Anglo-American student, acclaiming the advantages of being able to communicate fluently in a language other than one's own.

"It is obvious," the CTA continued, "that the school cannot enforce the prohibition against Spanish. And it is also obvious that the rule does not accomplish a universal speaking of English. It is impossible to make a person speak a language. In fact, efforts to force a language on a child usually results in stubborn resistance."

Army Recruiting Service lists varied opportunities

The United States Army Recruiting Command offers on-the-job or Army School training for young men who wish to work with artillery and cross-country transportation equipment, or to drive light or heavy wheeled or tracked vehicles.

According to Sgt. Bill Connors, local Army recruiter, the Army offers qualified young men the opportunity to become trained specialists operating and maintaining complex guns and rockets.

Young men who have had training in metal work, mathematics, automotive mechanics, mechanical drawing, drafting, motor vehicle operation and maintenance will find this experience helpful in artillery training.

Sgt. Connors pointed out that a background in these vocational fields of endeavor are particularly qualifying for a three-year enlistment to become a field artillery rocket crewman, field artillery operations and intelligence assistant or automotive weapons crewman.

After serving their active military service, many veterans have found that the training and experience gained while in the Army is valuable to them in civilian careers such as construction, ordnance manufacture and engineering.

Local Army recruiters at 160 W. 3rd St., Pomona, are qualified counselors who can advise young men, and women too, about the great many vocational training areas and careers in the United States Army.

PTA hears Maj. Miller

Mrs. Jack Fletcher, President of the Alta Loma High School PTA, presided over the November meeting held at the school's staff lounge. The Pledge of Allegiance was led by Monte Fletcher and Mrs. A. T. Arbezzi, membership, Honorary Live and Founder's Day Chairman, giving the thought for the day.

Mrs. J.W. Masters, treasurer, presented the organization with the budget, which was approved. The budget should be obtained through membership, which is falling far below par, according to Mrs. Arbezzi. The Alta Loma High School faculty is up to 50%, while the parent participation is only 15%. The PTA has hopes to establish a scholarship for one of two worthy students, but with poor membership, it cannot be accomplished.

Mrs. Frank Kadunc and Mrs. J.W. Masters were elected to serve with Mrs. Arbezzi on the Honorary Life membership committee. The honorary life recipient will be presented to the association at the January meeting. The committee is open to suggestions from the Alta Loma High School District. Pleast state your candidate's qualifications and send it to Mrs. A.T. Arbezzi, P. O. Box 164, Alta Loma, prior to January 5, 1967.

Mr. Jack Fletcher, Vice President and program chairman introduced Major Malcolm F. Miller, who is connected with the National Selective Service Act. Major Miller expalined in full detail the Selective Service classification.

Anxious parents asked Major Miller questions which he answered readily.

Mrs. Robert Musser, membership co-chairman, and Mrs. Marguerite Stewart, publicity record book chairman, assisted by Mrs. Wilbur Johnston, cafeteria manager, presided at the fall-decorated coffe table.

Security Bank branch a welcome addition

The opening Friday, Dec. 9, of the Security First National Bank's new Upland branch office is another milestone for both the bank and the city.

The $250,000 structure reflects Security Bank's confidence in the future of Upland.

Of importance, also, is its location at the intersection of Euclid Avenue and Foothill Boulevard. This particular piece of property was more than deserving of development. It is strategically located in the "heart" of the Foothill area where Upland's greatest development strides are being made.

Considerable planning was behind the construction of the bank at this location. There were various and at times terrifying problems that plagued this particular piece of property for years. However, with the cooperation and coordination of the City Staff, Planning Commission and City Council all roadblocks finally were resolved without jeapordizing the General Plan for that area or the bank's large investment.

The new bank includes 8,000 square feet of working area, in addition to extensive exterior landscaping and parking facilities.

Its construction, both interior and exterior, combines both eye-appeal and practicality.

There is a community room which the bank is making available at no charge to non-profit groups for meeting purposes. There also is an office which the bank is donating for the use of the Chaffey Communities Cultural Center, West End Symphony Association and the West End Opera Association.

This is a generous gesture by the bank's officials.

We urge Upland's residents to join with Security Bank in marking its opening Friday, Dec. 9, at which time open house will be celebrated from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Security First National Bank can feel justly proud of its new Upland branch. It is a welcome addition to the community after a decade of struggle.

Trial jury duty proves hair-raising experience

MY EXPERIENCE last month as a "trial juror" was a little hair-raising, if one is interested in the administration of justice in our courts.

As a result, I'm sure that procedures have changed radically in one respect, and for the better.

But there remain great questions that bear answering.

A LONG TIME AGO I was picked from a list of registered voters as one of several thousand potential citizens for "jury duty."

So this quarter I'm included in 1000 persons who are subject to call for current criminal and civil cases in Superior Court.

On Monday, Oct. 31, I showed up in San Bernardino at 10 a.m.

The Jury and Court Coordinator, Al Short, greeted about 30 of us. He is experienced and has been in office 10 years.

He spent a good 45 minutes talking with us, telling us to come back for official choosing of the jury at 1:30 p.m.

Since this was to be a "murder case" about nine persons who had previously objected to capital punishment, were to be excused. But several changed their minds after discussion of "moral" beliefs and "upholding the current law." Mr. Short believed capital punishment is a dead do-do in California, and doesn't expect another execution.

He also said that the trial was expected to "last five days" and that since there were "confessions and statements all made," it "is an open and shut case" although the defendant "probably would plead not guilty." We would find it a "very interesting case."

In the light of the U. S. Supreme Court decisions, this is an incredible thing to tell prospective jurors! I could hardly believe my ears!

Then Mr. Short proceeded to follow this with about a 35-minute talk, sermon, lecture, dissertation, or what-have-you on a variety of subjects.

He covered divorce and broken homes, as the chief causes of crime. He covered juvenile delinquency, minorities on juries. One prospective juror, a mother of four in a divorced home, argued briefly and politely with Mr. Short over this, saying her children were not juvenile delinquents.

He referred to past cases, one of 9-weeks duration in which it was learned that four persons on the jury had "made up their minds" in the first week. He urged "open minds" and listening to "both sides."

He said he had been all over the world as a naval officer and if the dirt off the floor in the courtroom where we all were located was swept up, he wouldn't trade it for all the rest of the countries in the world.

As a student of history he deplored the morals and attitudes of our world, especially relating to criminals, and compared the United States to the "Fall of Rome" and "Fall of Sparta," and said America is going straight down the line as they did just as straight as the rail in the courtroom in front of us.

I CONCLUDED correctly that this "speech" was designed to "indoctrinate" jurors with the greatness of this country, and prove to them that jury duty was an obligation and a privilege.

But insidiously, I felt it psychologically "fired up" jurors to the point where they were ready to go out and convict any defendant on anything!

Just as Mr. Short was about to end the session and bid us adieu until 1:30, I spoke up. I was the only one to say anything, but I said I questioned his remarks about the "open and shut" aspects of the case and how the defendant would plead was irregular and tended to bias the prospective jury; certainly me.

I guess my readers know I can't sit by quietly and watch the world go by, as 29 of my fellow prospective jurors did.

THE MEETING BROKE UP after a "covering statement" by Short. Then in the hall ONE OTHER juror came to me and said he agreed with me.

Then, Mr. Short talked with both of us, and "excused me" from jury duty because I said I could not go into the courtroom in a free frame of mind. The other prospective juror agreed and he, too, then was excused.

Mr. Short told me that he always tried to get people to understand the value and importance of being on juries. (He did not say he discussed all cases at hand.) My lingering thought is, however, exactly what has Mr. Short been saying for the past 10 years?

But I could not stand by after being excused and have my conscience clear when I felt that someone was to stand trial for murder, with a jury so biased to start out.

So at 11:30 I went in to see Superior Judge Joseph Ciano, in whose courtroom "justice" would take place. I commend the judge, for I was only there about three minutes, and barely got out of my mouth the "five days... open and shut case... probably plead not guilty..." bit, when I was told I was "not excused" but to report back for possible sworn testimony at 1:30.

So between 11:30 and 1:30 a good deal happened, I know.

The upshot was that at 1:30 the judge had a private session "in chambers" with both attorneys, the defendant himself, and a court reporter — then in open court things went fast.

A few "uncontaminated" prospective jurors who showed up for the first time at 1:30 were told to report to another courtroom. They were thus isolated.

All the rest of us were told that the court was embarrassed by the irregular speech and statements of the morning, and we ALL were excused!

I STILL DON'T KNOW the name of the man in the murder trial, nor a thing of what happened in that case, nor have I tried to find out. I've also delayed reporting this to stay completely clear of the case, which should be settled by now.

But I do know that whoever he may be, he started off with a fair and impartial jury list. I struck my blow for freedom and the basic right of all Americans to have an honest trial by jury in a land of liberty. If I never serve on a trial jury in my life, I feel I've done my "share" toward my fellowman free man.

I don't really know why I'm always the one to get involved in affairs of this nature. I had known Al Short very well since my year on the Grand Jury in 1962, and everyone else over the years has held him and his office in the highest of esteem, it seems. He and his office have received virtually no criticism in public.

But I could not sit still, despite my friendship, and let a basic American principle be trampled in the dust. The price of friendship came too high.

SO WHERE DOES this leave our courts in San Bernardino?

Well, things will never be the same, that's for sure.

You can be positive that the judges recognized what happened.

A jury coordinator's responsibility is to get people to the courthouse. Then it is up to the court and the attorneys to make statements in accordance with laws and procedure inside a courtroom.

Incidentally, this happened the next morning when our entire group was recalled for another trial. This time our names were on a bulletin board; we were told in writing to report to a certain courtroom; and there we sat until court began to unfold what was involved in the case at hand.

ONE LAST SAD THOUGHT about it all is that 29 other prospective jurors either had no understanding of what was at stake in the discussion that went on, or were reluctant to speak up. God help this country if people don't speak up for their heritage and freedom.

Before I Forget

By Mel Hodell

From the Mailbox

To The Editor:

It was brought to my attention to read the article by Roger Price, "Memories of a PTA Drop-Out" in the magazine section of your newspaper of Dec. 1, 1966.

I have been a member of the PTA since 1949 and I am proud of it. Our common interest is for the betterment of children's welfare.

Whenever a PTA president would call to ask me to fill a position, the proposal would first be discussed with our family as it was a time-requiring job and cooperation was needed. The vote would always be for the PTA as they understood the work had to be accomplished. Many times my husband painted signs and made posters and was at my side at the meetings. He enjoyed it and we both gained knowledge.

Today, I am the grandmother of two children and my younger daughter is a Junior at Alta Loma High School and we have had no problems with our daughters.

Maybe if Mr. Price would attend a PTA meeting in reality instead of in his imagination, he might get a better slant on life. How stupid can Mr. Price be "husbands chasing teachers" according to him. PTA parents realize that our children are in the teachers' care during the greatest part of the day to be EDUCATED. The only time I have been to a PTA dance is when I was a chaperon at a dance for the STUDENTS.

If Mr. Price were active, he would realize that PTA was responsible for the child labor law, legislation for protection and welfare of children, the hot lunch program, the head-start program, the visual-screening program and in our area, the Christmas Basket Program. Besides these, there is always the constant need for shoes, clothes and food for students throughout the year.

When a family is in need who comes to the rescue, not Mr. Price but the PTA.

He would be amazed at the many wonderful people he would meet during the social hour over a cup of coffee or tea. The common interest is children and as long as that is in our hearts how can our present generation go wrong?

If more people would get a little PTA spirit rubbed off on them we might improve our world which he seems to want to tear down. As he says himself, 'It is the world's largest non-political organization," so it must have something on the ball.

To the Editor:

You asked about Mr. Crowe, Ontario City Councilman. He has given some suggestions of the uniting of the Cities of the West End, YET when Ontario was given an opportunity to participate in the Chaffey Community Cultural Center, by assisting in the completing of the Museum, HE opposed same. Looks like Mr. Crowe is a little short-sighted for having a fine Museum in the area would be to the advantage of the community.

Sincerely,
(Mrs.) Earl F. Riggs
President, Chaffey Community

To the Editor:

Garrick Players are most appreciative of the fine coverage you have given to our current production.

We are trying to maintain the fine record of live, family theater created by and for members of this community.

Getting our message to the public is essential to our existence and to our future growth.

We are especially appreciative of the cooperation of time and effort made by Walt Orvis in taking our pictures.

Enclosed are two complimentary tickets which we hope you will use to attend and enjoy our show.

To the Editor:

I was indeed shocked to read an article as derogatory about PTA as the article in December's Upland News in the "Dimensions in Living" section.

The Upland News and Mr. Hodell has always been very cooperative and has been a marvelous help to all our local PTA projects and our area Foothill Council programs.

Why did Mr. Price pick on the PTA to try out his literary nonsense?

Actually, the addition of this section has not proved worthy of the high literary standards of the Upland News.

It is a shame that Mr. Price used such poor judgement in deriding such a worthwhile national organization as the PTA.

Sincerely,
Mrs. M. H. Fisher
Past Foothill Council Pres.

(Editor's note: As a word of explanation, the article by Roger Price was not intended as derogatory toward the PTA. Rather, Mr. Price, as a noted humorist, intended his "memoirs" as a tongue-in-cheek satire. As noted at the bottom of his article, he is the editor and publisher of America's newest humor magazine which is described as "zany." We are certain his remarks were made in the same zany vein with no reflection whatsoever upon the good work of Parent-Teachers Associations and their many hard-working members.)

WORTH TALKING ABOUT

"The guideposts are inequitable and unworkable. They are based on emotion, on executive power and appeals to an uninformed or partially informed public opinion, instead of on considered economic judgment. They are potentially dangerous, both to the extent that we could rely on them until it is too late for truly effective action, and that they could lead to the destruction of our competitive, free-market system."

John D. Harper,
President
Aluminum Company
of America

"During the last 10 years American business invested $350 billion in new plants and equipment and in the process created nine million new jobs. The investment requirement during the next decade will be even greater—an estimated $650 billion for new plants, stores and equipment. This money can come only from American business, reinvesting profits to create new resources, or investing money entrusted to business by individuals who hope to share in the growth and profitability of the firms."

STRENGTH FOR THESE DAYS from the Bible

We are children of God . . . heirs of God.—(Rom 8:16,17)

As children of the living God, we have been created in His image. With this knowledge we should live confidently and cheerfully, regardless of worldly problems. We must remind ourselves that we are responsible for our thoughts and actions, and should elevate our spirit as children and heirs of God.

IN MONTCLAIR DEC. 17--The West End Symphony Orchestra, shown in photo taken during its first concert of the season in Upland High School Auditorium Oct. 27, will play in Montclair High School Auditorium Saturday, Dec. 17, as the community celebrates Music Week.

West End Symphony Orchestra feature in Montclair Dec. 17

A festive family concert to be given by the West End Symphony Orchestra in Montclair High School Auditorium at 7:30 p.m., Saturday, Dec. 17, will climax the city's annual Christmas Music Week sponsored by the City Recreation Department. The performance, for which a general admission charge of $1 will be made, will be followed by a "get acquainted" reception to be held in the school cafeteria. Free refreshments will be served.

A program befitting the Yuletide season has been arranged by conductor Herbert Weiskopf of Los Angeles and Portland, who will be on the podium. The opening number will be Schubert's "Unfinished Symphony." Mezzo-soprano Wanda Karos, wife of director Weiskopf, will sing three excerpts from the opera "Carmen" by Bizet, as well as the selection, "Cantique de Noel" (O Holy Night) by Adam.

Harpist Gayle Levant of Los Angeles, a member of the orchestra, will be featured in Maurice Ravel's "Introduction and Allegro for Harp and Strings". The orchestra will then play "Sleigh Ride" by LeRoy Anderson, and the program will conclude with the overture to "The Gypsy Baron" by Johann Strauss.

Tickets may be obtained in advance at the Montclair City Hall Recreation desk, from the West End Symphony Orchestra Association office at 217 S. Lemon Ave., in Ontario, and from members of the various Montclair service clubs. Season tickets will not apply for this event.

'Met' auditions Jan. 21

The seventh annual auditions for young singers will be held again this year by the San Bernardino-Riverside Counties District of the National Council of the Metropolitan Opera Western Region. Date of the auditions has been set for Jan. 21 by Miss Gwendolyn Roberts, district director.

The auditions will be held at the San Bernardino Valley College, in Studio "A" Technical Building. All singers are urged to take advantage of this opportunity to compete for a cash award as well as singing in the regional semi-finals in Los Angeles.

The winner or winners will represent this district at the semi-finals to be held on Feb. 11 in Hancock Auditorium on the Campus of the University of Southern California.

The cash award for the winner of the San Bernardino-Riverside Counties District is being made available each year by the opera guild of this area, Miss Roberts said.

Purpose of the Metropolitan Opera National Council's regional auditions is to help discover new American talent for the Metropolitan and to make it possible for young singers in all parts of the country to be heard and aided in their careers through these regional auditions and the several district auditions in each region, the National Council arranged for more than 1,600 American singers to be heard in the 1964-65 season, Miss Roberts said.

Most important of these was Miss Karen Armstrong, western regional winner last year, who competed in New York and became the national winner for 1966. She was awarded a contract with the Metropolitan Opera and a $2,500 scholarship. She has since been seen and heard on television and in concert all over the country.

The district auditions will be judged by three authorities of renown who will select a winner and give helpful comments on individual reports to each contestant. Names of those who have good voices are constantly being referred to producers, opera associations, organizations and clubs who need the services of good talent. This is a service that is included in the many opportunities offered those who sing for the auditions.

Young singers of this area should contact Miss Gwendolyn Roberts, 1898 Genevieve St., San Bernardino, for further information and application forms necessary for entering the competition. Miss Roberts urges that young singers take advantage of this unusual opportunity.

Seven years ago Miss Roberts was asked to form a District in this area and now it is not even necessary to travel to Los Angeles, but auditions are held each year at San Bernardino for the district. Every singer in [illegible] County should audition for t[illegible] experience and opportuniti[illegible] that are available to th[illegible] through these auditions.

Chaffey convocation Dec.8

Television news analyst William Winter will be featured at a Chaffey College community convocation at 11:15 a.m., Thursday, Dec. 8.

The award-winning newsman's topic will be "Interpreting World Affairs," the title of his graduate extension lecture series at the University of California (Berkeley) and UCLA. He has also given a special lecture series at Columbia University.

In anticipation of an overflow audience, Chaffey plans to put up extra bleachers in the gymnasium. There will be no admission charge.

Winter's knack for placing global events and personalities in historical perspective has earned him some of the highest awards in the profession of communications.

Among his credits are:

--"Excellence in Commentary" for 1958 and 1960 by Associated Press;

--"Best News Program," 1950, 1951 and 1953, Academy of Television Arts and Sciences;

--"Best Commentary," 1956, 1957, 1959 and 1960, Radio and TV News Club of Southern California.

This newsman's newsman served as the first "Voice of America" in World War II. Through the early years of the war, starting before Pearl Harbor, he broadcast a daily commentary by shortwave radio from San Francisco across the Pacific to Asia.

He followed this stint with direct coverage of the war in the Pacific, Asia and North Africa as a correspondent for Overseas News Agency and the Office of War Information.

Winter returned to San Francisco in 1945 to report the United Nations Charter Conference to the world by shortwave radio for the State Department.

His next beat was Korea as war correspondent for the United Nations when his face became as familiar as his voice to his California following. Winter had switched to television.

The Philippine Government conferred its "Legion of Honor" award on Winter for his World War II effort, the only American to have received this distinction.

"The voice of William Winter is part of our history," the late President Ramon Magsaysay said. "Without his daily reassurance, which we heard on our secret radios, Philippine resistance would not have been possible. It was William Winter who kept alive our faith, our hope, our belief in Democracy."

The Japanese Government under Premier Tojo understandably took an opposite view of Winter.

Radio Tokyo even broadcast a play in which three characters died and were refused admittance to Heaven because of their wickedness. The three "heavies" were Franklin D. Roosevelt, Winston Churchill and William Winter.

West End Opera auditions Dec. 12

Auditions for the West End Opera Company's production of the world's best-loved opera, "La Boheme," will be held from 7 to 10 p.m., Monday, Dec. 12, at Ontario's Vina Danks Junior High School auditorium.

Company director-conductor Stefan Petroff emphasized that the Monday evening auditions for the April performance will be the only ones held for prospective cast members of "La Boheme."

Singers are asked to bring their own music, including one song in a foreign language and another in English. An accompanist will be provided.

Petroff said that he is particularly on the look-out for a comical bass to take the role of Benoit. However, all local tenors, sopranos and baritones are also invited to audition. Rehearsals will begin after Jan. 1.

For the necessary audition appointment, call Petroff at 987-2730. Persons interested in backstage crafts such as make-up, set design and construction, costuming and the like are also invited to call Petroff.

Some 20 musically-inclined children between the ages of 10 and 14 are also needed for the Children's Chorus which plays a prominent role in "La Boheme."

WHO IS JEFFERY EDEN--Despite threatened "torture" by her fellow classmates Carol Locke, 17, refuses to explain the current mystery on the Upland High School campus that has everyone wondering: "Who is Jeffery Eden?" For further information the above procedure is not recommended. However, a ticket for one of the two performances Saturday, Dec. 10, in the school auditorium may unravel the mystery. Tickets are 50 cents for children, $1 for students and $1.50 for adults. A matinee will be given at 2 p.m. with another performance at 8 p.m., both under the title of "Moments of Madness." The torturers above are from the left: Mike Whitcomb, 16; Gregg Power, 17; and Carol Wise (seated), 17.

County W.C.T.U. meets here; opposes liquor in Army camps

The combined Executive and San Bernardino County Institute of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union held Monday, Nov. 28, in the First Methodist Church of Upland proved to be very inspirational and instructive.

Mrs. Grace Crum of Redlands, county president, was delayed until 10:30 a.m. by car trouble so the meeting was opened at 9:45 by Mrs. Dessie Archibald, treasurer, who was the next in order officer present.

Flag salutes were led by Mrs. Alice Hargis of San Bernardino and devotions were by Mrs. Maud Anderson, also of San Bernardino.

Recommendations from the state were read by Mrs. Beatrice Jenison of Upland and consent given.

Officer and directors reports showed all unions active.

Redlands reported they had already put their essay and poster contest materials in the schools. Yucaipa announced they found the "opportunity" table very lucrative.

In a written report Miss Bessie Hattery, legislation chairman, suggested the unions keep informed on proposed legislation and local violations. Each member was urged to write Mrs. Mildred Hammon, WCTU Washington representative, to find what we can do to get liquor out of the Army camps and to check to see if the Red Cross is sending beer in boxes to the armed services.

Mrs. Grace Crum, youth temperence council director, stressed the need for more activity among the youth and to make the work more attractive to them.

The aged were not forgotten. Mrs. Jenison, chairman of the WCTU Eagle Rock Home, announced a Christmas party there, Dec. 19, and asked that gifts, money, etc., be in by Dec. 15. The new 19-bed infirmary will soon be open and trading stamp books are still needed.

Mrs. Edith Henderson, armed services director, displayed articles to be sent to hospitals or wherever there is a need.

The noontide message by the Rev. Bruce Gabbert of the local church was built around "concern for the individual" and he quoted from the book "God is for Real, Man," the street gang's translation of the Bible on drinking.

The next executive was announced for Monday, Jan. 16, in Redlands.

Police chief warns of holiday hazards

Police Chief John Wessely cautioned Uplanders about hazards associated with the holiday season. Chief Wessely noted that the holiday season means an increase in traffic as people do their Christmas shopping and visit friends and relatives.

Holiday driving is further complicated by vacationing school children and wet weather, Wessely said.

He also pointed out that crime statistics always show a sharp rise in home burglaries during the month of December. Wessely said that the following suggestion can help to minimize holiday crime.

1. Don't leave home without locking all doors and windows.
2. Don't leave home without drawing drapes on any picture windows.
3. Don't leave large amounts of cash around the house.
4. Don't forget to leave a light burning when you are out for the night.
5. Don't leave purchased articles in your car while shopping -- lock them in the trunk.
6. Don't leave small children in an unattended vehicle.
7. Don't forget to have your neighbors watch your house while you are away.

Wessely also warned merchants to take the following preventive steps to protect themselves against bad check artists.

1. Always ask for positive identification.
2. Write down identification numbers.
3. Check signature on identification with signature on the check.
4. Match description on identification with the individual.

JAYCEES LAUNCH YULE TREE SALE--The Upland-Ontario Jaycees' annual Christmas tree sale opens Saturday, Dec. 10, with the proceeds this year going to area Little Leagues and Pop Warner football teams. Tickets sell for $1 but have a $1.50 value toward purchase of any tree. Trees will be on sale at 960 W. Holt Boulevard in Ontario but advance tickets may be obtained by calling 982-0498.

Monte Vista 4-H Yule party Dec. 15

The monthly meeting of the Monte Vista 4-H was held recently at the Monte Vista School.

The meeting was called to order by the president, George Allen.

Linda Nichols gave the treasurer's report and also reported on the October Hi-4-H meeting.

Mrs. Sharp gave out awards to those who had entered goats and swine at the Los Angeles Fair.

The members had an opportunity to guess at different kinds of seeds. There were three winners. They were: Denny Murphy, George Allen and Mr. David Addison.

The next meeting will be the annual Christmas dinner to be held at the school Thursday, Dec. 15.

Cal Poly student gains forensics award

Two out of eight possible top awards in the Western States Forensics Championships have been added to the forensics trophy case at California State Polytechnic College, Pomona.

Sixty-five colleges and universities representing 10 western states participated in the annual event at the University of Washington, Seattle, Nov. 23-25.

Gil Jordan, 21, a junior language arts major, won second place, senior men's division, oral interpretation. These are two of eight individual events in the tournament.

Faculty members include Paul Newman, assistant professor in the Language Arts Department and coordinator of forensics and Ross Figgins, Assistant Professor of Language Arts Department.

Three other students who received semi-finals awards are: Paula Anzaldi, 19, a language arts sophomore, junior women's division, oral interpretation; Regina Fichmann, 20, a junior social sciences student, senior women's division, oral interpretation; and Mark McQuown, 20, a language arts sophomore, senior men's division, oral interpretation. Each received a certificate of excellence.

Miss Fichmann is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Fichmann of 5579 Hermosa, Alta Loma. She attended both Upland High School and Chaffey College.

As a direct result of the tournament awards, Cal Poly has been invited to send a forensics team to the Harvard forensics tournament, Feb. 3 and 4 in Cambridge, Massachusetts. Students are holding a fund drive to defray expenses for the trip.

Newman said Cal Poly plans to send 20 students to the Pasadena College forensics tournament on Dec. 9 and 10.

Some stores in the United States and Canada depend on Christmas shoppers for a fifth of the sales they make during the entire year, reports World Book Encyclopedia.

Uplander gains wings as Pan Am stewardess

A pretty, dark-eyed Upland girl, Sara Sue Staton, has sprouted wings and is flying over the North Pole as a Pan American World Airways stewardess.

Wearing her new gold wings on the horizon blue, high fashion uniform designed by fellow California Don Loper, she is serving aboard Jet Clipper flights from Seattle over the polar route to London and Paris.

The new stewardess is the daughter of Mrs. Vera Blain Staton, 852 N. Palm, Upland, and Robert P. Staton Jr., of San Gabriel.

She attended the University of California at Santa Barbara, was a United Air Lines stewardess before enrolling for Pan Am training.

International travel is no novelty to Miss Staton, who lived in Japan during her father's military service, and has visited Canada and the West Indies. But flying the Santa Claus route over the pole is something new and different.

The Pan Am college in Miami annually gives wings to some 1,200 young women graduates from all parts of the world. Students from 40 different countries have completed the five-week training course, sharing luxury hotel-type quarters and a palm-shaded swimming pool.

SARA SUE STATON

Dr. Climenhaga, executive director of National Association of Evangelicals, is currently arranging for the 25th anniversary convention to be held in Los Angeles next April.

The NAE serves 40,000 churches throughout the U. S. in addition to denominations around the world. Their services include diplomatic liaison, missions coordination, world relief programs, university chaplains, health and family counselling ministries.

Dr. Climenhaga formerly served as president of Upland College. He served 15 years in missionary work in Rhodesia, S. Africa where he was appointed bishop. Prior to his post with NAE he served as president of Messiah College, Grantham, Pa., for a four-year period.

Adventists to launch world service appeal

Upland-Ontario Seventh-day Adventists begin their 63rd annual World Service Appeal Saturday, Dec. 10.

Participating in the appeal will be volunteers of the local congregation, including the Pathfinder organization of the youth, who will personally visit homes of the community in the next two weeks.

Funds solicited will go toward extending medical, welfare and educational services in 189 countries of the world, including the United States. On a world basis last year the church aided over 10 million persons, distributed over 11 million articles of clothing, donated 15 million hours of volunteer time, and contributed 12 million dollars in cash and food in the church's welfare program.

Besides welfare activities, the church operates 128 hospitals and 146 clinics treating nearly four million persons annually; supports its own school system enrolling 370,000 students; and publishes Christian literature in 228 languages.

Trees range from 14 to 16 feet in height with two 25-footers at the intersections of Euclid and Foothill and at the San Bernardino freeway entrance. Trees were set up last week by city employes.

March of Dimes needs volunteers

"Can you spare an hour to save a child?"

Mrs. Jean Hoffman asked the citizens of Upland this important question as she accepted the appointment for the 1967 Upland Mother's March.

"Most people don't realize that one out of every 10 children born in San Bernardino County suffers from a serious birth defect. An hour or less is all the time most volunteers will need to call on their neighbors seeking support of the March of Dimes.

Donations received by the Marching Mothers in Upland will be used to further support the March of Dimes work in the fields of education, research and patient care.

"Since the establishment of the Birth Defects Center in San Bernardino at Saint Bernardine's Hospital the March of Dimes needs our support more than ever before. I urge the citizens of Upland to join me in this cause," Mrs. Hoffman said.

Mrs. Hoffman was appointed by James Smith, Upland March of Dimes director for 1967 and Harold Cook, area director for 1967.

Mrs. Hoffman has been active in the March of Dimes for the past two years. She also is active in the PTA and the Cub Scouts.

Those interested in helping Mrs. Hoffman may contact her at 1810 N. 2nd, Upland, or Mr. Smith at the Upland Elementary Schools administration office.

Magnolia PTA honors Mrs. Opal R. Hawes

Mrs. Opal R. Hawes, principal of Magnolia Elementary School in Upland, was honored by the school's PTA last week prior to her retirement on Dec. 16.

Mrs. Hawes was presented with red rosebud corsage by Mrs. Charles Buckley, charter member of the organization.

Take the situation at Berkeley. I find it difficult to take. It's difficult to picture supposedly bright students sinking to the level of a mob mind, which is equal to the lowest mentality in the mob, or even less.

But those "brilliant" UC students manage to do it. I say they aren't half as smart as they ought to be. Not one tenth as smart as they think they are.

Instead of being leaders, they are sheep. Pretty picture, isn't it.

Some of the UC students may be honestly protesting something they think is wrong. However, they are being used like a bunch of illiterates by some professional agitators.

I asked once before who sent Mario Savio to Berkeley to agitate, to disrupt the University. I'll ask the same question again. I think most of us know the answer. Some of his cohorts admit their connections.

There are probably many reasons for students joining the protests at UC and other universities and colleges. Some think it's more fun than going to class, because they really don't want to be university students in the first place.

Too many young people are pushed toward college by parental and other pressures, when they would rather be somewhere else.

Some are just plain spoiled brats. After 18 years of getting away with doing as they darn well please, they feel that no one is going to make them suddenly start to obey rules. Those children at Berkeley are only "expressing themselves," the cute little dears.

One thing apparent is the size of the ego of such types. They actually think they are divine, that they will determine what rules they will follow, and which ones they will break.

I wonder if they carry the idea to the law against murder? If they feel that rule is a bad one, is it all right for them to break it?

I don't agree with all the laws under which I live, and I protest, but I don't need a beard to hide behind, to give me status.

There is another manifestation of ego at Berkeley, teaching personnel belonging to the American Federation of Teachers, non-professionals, interested in their own gain, apparently unaware of any obligation to anyone or anything but their own comfort.

All I can say about a lot of Berkeley types: yl-yl-yl.

Meanwhile, back in Sacramento, Pat Brown is showing his true colors. Petty little fellow. While he tromps on sour grapes, he's busy appointing his brother and other political hangers-on to judicial and other posts. He's going to have his revenge on the people for throwing the rascals out, no matter what it costs the people of California.

While that little man Brown was bragging about how great everything was during the recent campaign, a lot of us were worried about the true financial condition of the State government.

So was Reagan. Now he's even more worried, because Brown's financial pigeons are coming home to roost, and Reagan is going to have to solve the problems.

Brown was great at juggling the books, so to speak, employing bookkeeping dodges in an effort to get elected. He as good as said so months before the primary, crowing about the change in accounting methods so there would not have to be a tax raise in an election year.

Shortly before the election, Brown had a lot of radio commercials on the air promising an average of $150 reduction in every homeowner's property tax. Of course he was going to explain all after the election.

Just like the appointments he didn't make before the election were left open to keep all prospective appointees dangling, contributing, working for his re-election, the $150 carrot was supposed to get him support.

If you were to believe Pat Brown months and months ago, you couldn't believe his $150 tax reduction promise.

Now he's busy getting revenge on the people. He should drink the sour squeezings of his sour grapes.

And what do we have in this county? Ku Klux Klan rallies. KKK united with ANP, American Nazi Party. No surprise there. They deserve each other. Only surprise about the KKK is that the group calls itself Christian. Christ lived and spoke a life of love, but the KKK?

Despite Berkeley, Brown and KKK-ANP, and other dim spots on the horizon, cheer up. I've been talking about minorities. We know the majority of us are made of better stuff.

Legion Auxiliary honors state president

Guest of honor at the recent 25th District American Legion Auxiliary meeting was Mrs. Benedict Comenzind, state president, who was presented by Mrs. Joseph Monduck, district president, with a lovely bouquet of "Happy Flowers" arranged in a huge amythest vase with an appropriate card and monetary donation.

The flowers were especially made for her by veteran patients at Patton State Hospital, which is one of the facilities that has an active veteran program and a favorite project of Mrs. Comenzind's. She will also attend the Gift Shop for veteran patient's families at Patton which will be conducted under direction of Mrs. Arthur Novelli, hospital chairman, and Mrs. Floyd Walker of Yucaipa Unit, who is serving as deputy chairman.

Approximately 130 to 150 large packages are mailed out annually for these hospitalized patients.

Mrs. Novelli, assisted by Mrs. Walker presented a 1,000-hour bar for volunteer hospital service to Mrs. Frieda Weber of Yucaipa, a 500-hour bar each to Mmes. Helen Meier and John Sugar, Ontario Unit 112; and 50-hour pins to Mmes. Monduck of Rialto and Ruth Dean of Yucaipa, and Mrs. Novelli and Walker both received their gold National VA voluntary Service cards for their work as chairman and deputy.

In other rehabilitation work Mrs. Mildred Blodgett, district chairman, announced that Long Beach VA Hospital needed bed soakers desperately and urged Units to organize sewing groups to make these and the scuffies which are so urgently needed also.

Mrs. Blodgett directed her report to Mrs. Frank Mason, state rehabilitation chairman, who was also a special guest at the meeting. Mrs. Mason then spoke to the group of the necessity of volunteer workers and explained where the moneys are used that are sent to the State office for rehabilitation work. Almost $3,000,000 is provided annually by the American Legion Auxiliary in the nation for rehabilitation services to the veteran patient and his family.

Other distinguished guests presented beside Mmes. Comenzind, Mason, Walker and Novelli by Mrs. Edith Howarton of Upland were Mrs. Harry Keyser, national music chairman, Mrs. Ethel Marsh, past state president, and Mrs. Sherman Lansdale, vice chapeaux of the State 8 and 40 group, which is a subsidiary organization. Each was presented with a lovely corsage.

Mrs. Jean Fabun, San Bernardino, community service chairman, selected as the second district project for the auxiliary the project for securing pool equipment and furniture for Patton swimming pool which was completed in July 1966. All donations should be earmarked for either the cerebral palsy school at Loma Linda or the Patton Pool and sent to the District treasurer. Special community projects listed are beautification, USO, health and especially cooperating with the California Heart Association and cancer program.

Mrs. Angeline Wilson, child welfare chairman, reminded members to serve on the March of Dimes project, child safety, juvenile delinquency, outdoor recreation and the emotionally disturbed children projects. Child welfare is the protection and care of all children.

Mrs. Lois Kennedy, junior activities chairman, urged all units to organize the junior group since they are the future American Legion Auxiliary members and will be asked to assist in the programs for the many veterans who are presently serving in the Viet Nam war. Much of the legislation which will be necessary in the future for these veterans will also be of great interest and advantage for these young people. Only through knowledge will they be aware of the veteran and his family needs.

Mrs. Jack Holt, drill and ritual chairman, asked that more units organize a drill team in order to compete at the state convention. For several years only one district has been entered in competition and with no other entries there has been no competitive program which has been a highlight of state convention in past years. Mrs. Sugar, Ontario drill team chairman, and Mrs. Walker, Yucaipa, announced that their teams are available for initiations and installations.

Mrs. Claudine Scott, membership chairman, presented early bird state awards to Upland, Fontana, Highland, Yucaipa, DeVore, Yermo, Guy Winton Morris, and Rialto Units. She said that it was necessary to have 300 more members in the district for 100% membership quota. Dec. 31 is the deadline for state awards. A special plea was made by Mrs. Clara Thompson, historian, for unit presidents and chairmen to send their pictures to her for Mrs. Monduck's history book.

Mrs. Keyser, as national music chairman, directed the singing of a special membership song for Mrs. Comenzind and asked that units have singing and music at their regular meetings, and not to forget that we have many patriotic songs which are very beautiful and many times forgotten if they are not sung by patriotic organizations.

Mrs. Comenzind was escorted by Mmes. Sugar and Novelli to the American Legion Post district meeting for a short address preceding luncheon. She told the post members that she was so happy with their assistance to the rehabilitation program at Patton Hospital and asked that they tell other districts of their work and the necessity of helping the mental and neurological veteran patient who is nearly always forgotten in some of the other facilities. She said that some state hospitals have as many as 800 to 1,000 veteran patients who can use volunteer aid.

Following th

Following a luncheon hosted by the Yucaipa Unit and Post, Mrs. Sugar announced that the first lesson of the extension course was out and should be studied and mailed in to headquarters.

Mrs. August Mutter, Redlands, asked that members contact their posts for use of the crepe paper poppies made by the hospitalized veterans in VA facilities as memorial wreaths at funerals as well as Memorial Day.

Application for a charter for Chino Auxiliary was read and the change of name request from Fred MacDougall Unit to Victor Valley Unit was also read.

Mrs. Comenzind spoke at the close of the meeting on the cooperation of the state commander and her efforts to unite with Governor-Elect Reagan in his work to clean up the university campuses and especially at Berkeley where these non-students are taking away the rights of the taxpayers by riots, etc. She said that in her community alone which is Alameda $152,000 was used just for the results of these demonstrations and riots. She stated that the work must be done through the youths becuase it is very obvious that the parents have not cooperated with the law and have allowed their boys and girls to dictate rather than to be guided in the right path. It is too late for the parents so we must work with the youth to again have the high standards which our colleges and universities have experienced in years past.

Attending the luncheon with Automobile Club officials and executives were more than 100 civic, business and industrial leaders from throughout San Bernardino County.

The San Bernardino Office is the eighth oldest Automobile Club of Southern California District Office. The office was first established in December, 1916, in the Hotel Stewart and was managed by Arthur L. Milhaupt.

Casa Colina given $5,000

The Butz Foundation, a Chicago family foundation dedicated to the support of health agencies and hospitals has made a grant of $5,000 in support of patient care at Casa Colina Rehabilitation Center, it was announced by John Silliman, Board president.

The only restriction placed upon the use of the grant was that it be directed to the center's "Scholarship" or patient aid fund, which provides care for rehabilitation patients unable to pay hospital costs, as indicated by foundation president and treasurer, Miss Jean Butz James.

Casa Colina, a comprehensive center for the physically handicapped, is entering its 29th year of service to its western communities, providing complete services for the rehabilitation of children and adults suffering the effects of accident, disease and congenital defects.

Its annual public appeal for gift support announced last week seeks $100,000 for patient aid and future programs of specialized care and education for the handicapped. Advance gifts, including members gifts, now exceed $75,000 toward a total annual goal of $250,000 from all sources.

This month volunteers at the Center are mailing 400,000 gift envelopes to the people of major cities in Southern California outlining the Casa Colina program, and gift opportunities in support of its services.

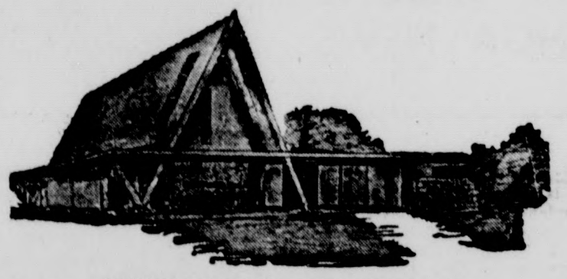

In announcing the Butz Foundation gift, the center's president, Mr. John Silliman, called it the "most generous" gift of the campaign to date.

United Fund reaches 92 per cent of goal

United Fund Campaign officials reported recently that $276,504 or 92.1 per cent of the $300,000 needed to support the activities of 30 agencies and services has been raised to date. The annual drive which began Oct. 3 is continuing its efforts to reach an increased goal of 25 per cent over the amount raised in 1965.

Campaign Chairman Robert J. Wayne appealed for a strong effort during the next two weeks from those involved in the campaign. Wayne said, "We must raise $300,000 to meet the financial needs of the agencies serving the West End area. We are too close to the goal, and it would be a shame if the West End businesses and residences did not see that the goal was reached."

Wayne expressed hope the goal could not only be reached but surpassed if all outstanding pledges were reported to United Fund.

Wayne also expressed particular thanks to all volunteers and chairmen that surpassed their goals. These were: Ontario Special Gifts, 107%; Chino Residential, 117.8%; Major Corporate Gifts Division, 111.5%; Auto & Accessory, 107.3%; Certified Public Accountants, 100%; Chino Small Business, 100%; Cucamonga Small Business, 100%; Chaffey College, 102%; State Employees, 108.9%; Hospitals, 106.3%; United Fund Agencies, 101.3%.

Wayne noted that campaigns are still underway in several United Fund Divisions. Those that have reached 90% of goal or better include: Industrial, 96.9%; Miscellaneous Retail Stores, 93%; Wholesalers, 92%; Nurseries, 92%; High School employees, 92%.

Divisions that have reached 80% or better include: Furniture and Appliances, 83.5%; Architects and Engineers, 86.7%; Brokers & Investments, 84.6%; City Employees, 85.5%; Veterinarians, 80%; Upland Special Gifts, 80.8%.

Those Divisions that have reached 70% or better include: Banks, 72%; Alta Loma Residential, 71.6%; Transportation, 71.4%; Savings and Loan, 74.3%; Elementary Schools, 75.7%; Funeral Homes, 74.6%; Chiropractors, 73.3%.

Those Divisions that have reached 60% or better include: Upland Residential, 67.2%; Cucamonga Residential, 62.1%; Printing & Paper, 60.5%; Physicians, 66.9%; Ministers, 67.4%; Dairy, 69%; General Farmers, 67%; Wine Growers, 66%; Federal Employees, 63.4%.

Those Divisions that are below 60% include: Ontario Residential, 55%; Montclair Residential, 47.6%; Etiwanda Residential, 39.5%; Department Stores, 57%; Food Stores & Distributors, 43.7%; Insurance, 55.5%; Hotels & Restaurants, 37%; Real Estate, 39%; Attorneys & Judges, 30.6%; Dentists, 48.8%; Building & Construction, 24.6%; Small Loan Firms, 33.7%; Montclair Small Business, 46.5%; Ontario Small Business, 42.5%; Upland Small Business, 52.4%.

The amount raised in this current United Fund Drive will be allocated to 30 agencies providing services to West End residents.

Pettis names aide for field offices

Appointment of C. Jerry Lewis, 32-year-old San Bernardino businessman, as full-time field representative in charge of three regional congressional offices throughout San Bernardino County has been announced by Congressman-elect Jerry Pettis.

Lewis will have charge of the central field office in San Bernardino and of the district offices in the West End and on the High Desert, Pettis said. Sites for the three offices have yet to be selected, the new congressman said, "although preliminary study of office space available is already under way."
